THE ALASKA GOLD FIELDS

Cook's Inlet Diggings are Booming.

Another Fabulous Yarn From the Klondyke.

The Wealth of Its Gold Placers Has Not Been Approximately Guessed at.

PORT TOWNSEND, October 11.—As an evidence that gold is found elsewhere than at Klondyke, the steamer City of Topeka which arrived this evening from Alaska brought down an aggregate of $200,000 in gold dust, all from Cook's Inlet, the result of this summer's work. This amount is distributed among eighty-five men who are coming out to spend the winter in a place where climatic conditions are more favorable than the country they have just left.

On the 22d of September 116 men left Cook's Inlet on the steamer Ferry for Sitka, where they took the U.S. of Topeka for Puget Sound. Thirty-one of the party stopped at Juneau where they will spend the winter.

No rich strikes are reported at Cook's Inlet, but the average is $5 in dust every day they worked. On rare occasions a man would pan out $10 per day and often as low as $3. Among the passengers was Robert Michaelson, who has been in Cook's Inlet for ten years and who is making his visit to the outside world at that time. He brought several thousand dollars, how much he would not state.

Michaelson will spend the winter at his old home in South Dakota. H. A. Schenck has upped off $10,000 after a stay of seven years. He is going to San Francisco for the winter and will return in the spring. However, the first claim in the country group, T. J. Riley of New York, went to Cook's Inlet in March, 1896, and stayed there till winter for the reason that he had not sufficient money to pay his way down, was also a passenger on the Topeka today.

He is the owner of two quartz claims on Bear Creek, in one of which the ledge is two feet wide and assays $150 per ton. The other is eight feet wide and assays $60 per ton. They both bring him $3000 in dust which he made here from a placid claim during the past summer. He will return in the spring with machinery for a stamp mill. Provisions are reported as being plentiful at reasonable prices at Cook's Inlet. There was little or no sickness there during the season. About eighty of the 500 men who were at Cook's Inlet during the summer will winter there.

SEATTLE, October 11.—Pat Galvin, who arrived here on Saturday from Dawson City, is recognized as one of the business kings of the Klondyke. He has been engaged in mining for the past three years, in an interview today reviewing the gold regions of the north and estimating their probable output, said: "There are 401 claims which have been in operation sufficiently to prove their richness. There are 250 other claims which have not developed, and by reason of their location in connection with other claims, it would be very difficult to say what they are worth. I have no doubt they will prove to be the other 401." "Taking these 741 claims and figuring out their cubic contents and making a conservative estimate, I do not see why the output from these claims alone will fall short of $50,000,000."

Mr. Galvin unhesitatingly declared that nothing which had been published, so far as he knew, even approximated the truth of what is really contained in these great gold fields.

AT THE PLAY.

The Shaw Company Opens to a Big House.

The Barton opera house held the usual first night Shaw audience last night—that is, every seat in the theater was sold out and many were unable to do better than get standing room. Sam T. Shaw is a great drawing card with Fresno theatergoers, and the reason for this is he always gives them the worth of their money and more, too. Many of the plays that his company has produced were far above what one would expect from such popularly priced organizations, and that he has given general satisfaction is shown by the immense audiences that his productions draw.

Since the Shaw company was last here there have been several changes, and notably among those who are missed are Jessie Shirley and Theaker Nicholson. But there are several new faces in the company and some very clever people among them.

For an opening bill "The Westerner" was put on, it is very much on the order of that charming play "Friend," and is very interesting.

One thing about the Shaw people that impresses one more than most of the popular priced companies is that the productions move with plenty of life and it is evident that you find any one in the cast stammering and bungling through his or her lines, fault which is inex- ceivable.

Mr. Shaw as James Enole, the whole soul of yesterday from Nevada, had just the part that he liked to play and one that is suited to him, and he won the audience from the start. M. J. Hooley as Simon Leston, who had a weakness for horse flesh and the race track, and who stood ready to bet his farm and his wife thrown in on his horns "Whiskers," was very funny. The rest of the characters, Mrs. Simon Deans by Mrs. Nellie May Shaw, Mary Lee by Marie Howe, Jessie Deans by Belle De Vaulx, Matthew De Vaulx by Harry Gilbert, and Mrs. Leston by William De Vaulx, etc., were all well enacted.

Tonight "From Sire to Son" will be produced with the full strength of the company. It is noticeable that Mr. Shaw has brought quite a list of new and good plays, better, in fact, than any he has had before.

STEREOPHONY.

Harry M. Cobb and Miss Maggie Elmore were married on the 8th instant at the residence of Mrs. Elmore on Blackstone avenue. Both are residents of Fresno.

The game Sunday between the Kottner-Goldstein Co.'s and the Harmonia baseball team resulted in victory for the K.G.C.'s. The score stood 18 to 9.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

A Delightful Party in Honor of Sam Hall.

The beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Wickerham, on the corner of Tulare and S streets, was the scene of a highly enjoyable birthday party last night. The party was given in honor of the fifteenth birthday of Samuel Hall the son of Mr. Wickerham. A large number of the young friends of the youthful host were in attendance and the entertainment, together with the fascinating game of tiddie-winks, were features that were thoroughly enjoyed.

Under Mrs. Wickerham's skillful management everyone was comfortably interested. A splendid collection was served during the evening. The following were present: Misses Sobie Hall, Clara Gedhart, Olara Rawlins, Myrtle Scott, and Scott, Pauline Yancey, Linda Kirk, Hazel Chisholm, Bertha Greenup, Lula Doyle, Mabel Archibald, Cleo Stevens, Mabel Herington, Beulah Miller, Myrtle Dreman, Olive Donahue, and Gertrude Hedrick; Misses John Alexander, Archie Bolger, Mrs. Parker, Milton Barnes, Carlino Chancos, Fred McKeehan, Frank Warner, Jack Rawlins, Ben Nell, Henry Tupper, John Hayes, Ralph Bixby, Gullion, Bryan, Walter Gundeling, Claude Thompson, M. A MERE PRETEXT.

Joc Spinney Quotes the Law

Like the Devil the Scripture, to Further His Own Evil Ends.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—In your report of last Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees, which appeared in Tuesday morning's issue, Trustee Spinney was reported as having said that the repeal of sections 8 and 9 of the ordinance regulating the appointment and removal of members of the police force, was solely for the reason that said sections conflicted with the statute relating to the same subject. In this connection he was sustained by the legal opinion of the city attorney.

The act of 1883 providing for the organization of cities of the fifth class, in which cities Fresno belongs, provides for the election of a Board of Trustees consisting of five members and of certain other officers. It further provides that the Board of Trustees shall have the power to appoint still other officers.

Section 104 of the act defining the powers of the board in relation to the appointment of members of the police force provides as follows: "The Board of Trustees shall have the power to appoint and remove such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and for their duties and compensation."

The above is all there is contained in the statute relating to the appointment of policemen. The manner of appointment, term of office, fixing compensation, rules of conduct, etc., were left entirely with the board without any regulation whatever. Yielded with such power, a former mayor did frame an ordinance to govern in the appointment of and removal of members of the police force. Sections 8 and 9 of this ordinance provided that members of the regular force should be elected by the trustees at their regular meetings. In April of each odd numbered year, and that they should retain their positions for a term of two years, unless removed for cause or cause suspended by the ordinance. Any person of ordinary sense can readily see that there is nothing contained in the section of the statute above cited, with which the ordinance as it stood, conflicts, the city attorney and Joe Spinney to the contrary notwithstanding. The legislature simply delegated to the Board of Trustees the power to frame the ordinance of which the above two sections have just been repealed.

Under the ordinance, as it stood, police officers acquired certain rights of removal which they could not be deprived except for just cause. The ordinance was as it should be and was based on a well established principle of law, which has been the custom from time immemorial, extending generally to all subordinate positions of public trust, even to teachers. As the ordinance stands to-day, a member of the police force may be appointed today, and tomorrow be removed without the assignment of any cause. Under the ordinance as it stood, was in ignorance of its mission until the couple was put aboard and the boat was made. BANK CLEARINGS Comprise the Best Business Barometer.

They Show That Prosperity Has Arrived—Other Good Indications.

From the Nashville American (Dom.).

The cry of the calamity howler grows wild and despairing in the face of the facts that every day prove conclusively the return of good times. Probably the best barometer of business in the country is the bank clearings. By no other criterion can the volume of business done in the whole country and in particular localities be so accurately measured. The bank clearings for the week ending September 24th, compared with the clearing for the same week last year show an increase of 60.6 per cent, and this in spite of the fact that there is a falling off at New Orleans and some other southern cities occasioned probably by the yellow fever epidemic. In New York the increase was 55.6 per cent. In Chicago it was 37.4. Topeka, Kan., shows up with 91 per cent. Lincoln, Neb., has an increase of 90.8 per cent to its credit. Lowell, Mass., manufacturing town, shows an increase of 80.0 per cent. But what it interests us to know more than all this, Nashville, Tenn., shows down as having an increase of 43.2 per cent.

Large increases in the bank clearings have been reported steadily every week now for more than a month past and they prove conclusively, whatever any politician may say to the contrary, that prosperity has in a large measure returned, the business conditions have reached the normal point, equally as good as they were prior to the panic of 1893.

But it is not by the bank clearings alone that we have assurances of improved trade and general business. Many substantial indications in the daily news of factories long closed and the employment of men long idle. The coal mine's strike that was for some time an impediment to industrial progress is, in the main, happily ended, with a substantial increase in wages of the miners. A dispatch from Pittsburgh says: "Secretary Warner, of the United Mine Workers, announced this morning that he could furnish work for every miner in the district at the 65-cent rate. He said that there was no reason for competent men to go out of work at the present time. All the mines are to be operated to their full capacity and the mine headquarters will be used as an employment office."

The increased price of iron is always a sure sign of an active business era. Dan & Co.'s report for the past week says: "The output of coke is now $10 to $10.50, with actual sales of 10,000 tons Southern pig in the Mahoning valley for $40.75 at Birmingham. Bills are quoted at $10.25, and $22 has been reduced for wire rods. The structural work is behind orders, timbers plateaued by the failure to get steel delivered fast enough, plates and sheet mills find demand everywhere, and iron is in great demand east at the West, with greatly improved demand and a shade better prices at least. The average advance of iron and steel product from the lowest point is 8.2 per cent."

These are very gratifying indications, which every good citizen will be glad to note. Good times have come largely because of good crops and good prices for agricultural products, but the main reason is the recovery of the panic-stricken in that direction after four years of depression. Such vibrations have come in all times, without regard to politics or legislation.

Accompanying the improved business conditions we have the further gratification of an abundance of money in the country. New York banks are reported to have larger gold holdings than at any time in the past, and the present metal is still coming in. Dan & Co.'s report on this point says: "Gold imports have begun again from England and France, besides those arriving from a sum of $400,000 at San Francisco from Australia for wheat exported. The gold received there and started from Europe amounts to $6,500,000 in two days, and the advance of its rates by the Bank of England to 2½ per cent seems not likely to check the movement, in view of heavy merchandise balances due this country and a rise in the rate of interest here. The August excess of money and specie exports over imports was not far from $42,000,000, and the September excess was evidently as large unless shipments of gold are considerable. Metal shipments from New York in three weeks of September have been 15.3 per cent over last year's, and imports 13.7 per cent less, and thus changed on the whole trade for the month would result in net exports of $30,000,000 merchandise, besides silver."

The only discouraging prospect now is the fall in the price of cotton. This, of course, will cut short the share of prosperity that should come to the Southern farmer, but the very large crop of the staples, even this year, will in some degree compensate for the low price, and it is hoped that with the general improvement in prices cotton, too, may go up before the greater part of the crop is marketed.

LAFAYETTE THE COURIER.—Sterling of the Galilee Presbyterians and His Second Visit to America.

Many charming stories have been told by old ladies who were in their prime when Lafayette made his second visit to America of the gallant Frenchman's courtesy.

On the day of his public reception in Virginia he rode in an open carriage without his hat, exposed to the rays of a brilliant sun, bowing to the crowds always ready to greet him. There was some apprehension that sunstroke might be the penalty of his politeness, but the napoleon was an old soldier. Before leaving home he had put a damp towel into his capacious wig and, protected by his helmet, he could indulge his French politeness with impunity. French and American revolutions and Austrian dungeons had taught him the art of self preservation.

The most charming story is of earlier date—his visit to the mother of Washington. He found her in the garden, raking together dried weeds and sticks, preparatory to a bonfire, arrayed in a lacey skirt, sack and broad brimmed hat tied over the plaited border of her cap.

The hostess met the situation with the composure of a clodhopper. Dropping her rake, she took between her hands the napoleon and barefaced him. There was some apprehension that sunstroke might be the penalty of his politeness, but the napoleon was an old soldier. Before leaving home he had put a damp towel into his capacious wig and, protected by his helmet, he could indulge his French politeness with impunity. THE ALASKA GOLD FIELDS

Cook's Inlet Diggings are Booming.

Another Fabulous Yarn From the Klondyke.

The Wealth of Its Gold Placers Has Not Been Approximately Guessed at.

PORR TOWNSEND, October 11.—As an evidence that gold is found elsewhere than at Klondyke, the steamer City of Topeka which arrived this evening from Alaska brought down an aggregate of $200,000 in gold dust, all from Cook's Inlet, the result of this summer's work. This amount is distributed among eighty-five men who are coming out to spend the winter in a place where climatic conditions are more favorable than the country they have just left.

On the 22d of September 110 men left Cook's Inlet on the steamer Perry Topeka, when they took the City of Topeka for Puget Sound. Thirty-one of the party stopped at Juneau where they will spend the winter.

No such strikes are reported at Cook's Inlet, but the average is $5 in dust every day they worked. On rare occasions a man would make out $10 per day and often as low as $1. Among the passengers was Robert Michaelson, who had been in Cook's Inlet for two years and who is making his first visit to the outside world in that time. He brought several thousand dollars, how much he would not say.

Michaelson will spend the winter at his old home in South Dakota. H. A. Schumacher has upward of $10,000 after a stay of seven years. He is going to San Francisco for the winter and will return in the spring. He owns four of the best claims in the entire group. T. J. Riley of New York, who went to Cook's Inlet in March, 1898, and stayed there all winter for the reason that he had not sufficient money to pay his way down, was also a passenger on the Topeka to-day.

He is the owner of two quartz claims on Bear creek, in one of which the ledge is two feet wide and assays $150 per ton. The other is eight feet wide and assays $50 per ton. Riley has with him $3000 in dust which he made here from a placer claim during the past summer.

He will return in the spring and go to California to mine again.

Provisions are reported as being plentiful at reasonable prices at Cook's Inlet. There was little or no sickness there during the season. About eighty of the 600 men who were at Cook's Inlet during the summer will winter there.

Seattle, October 11.—Pat Galvin, who arrived here on Saturday from Dawson City and who is recognized as one of the Bonanza kings of the Klondyke, where he has been engaged in mining for the past three years, was interviewed today regarding the gold regions of the north. On estimating their probable output, said: "There are 400,000 claims in the Klondyke, and provisions are being plentiful at reasonable prices at Cook's Inlet. There was little or no sickness there during the season. About eighty of the 600 men who were at Cook's Inlet during the summer will winter there."

"Taking these 741 claims and figuring out their cubic contents and making a conservative estimate, I do not see why the output from these claims alone will fall short of $60,000,000."

Mr. Galvin emphatically declared that nothing which had been published, so far as he knew, even approximated in the truth of what is really contained in these great gold fields.

AT THE PLAY.

The Shaw Company Opens to a Big House.

The Barton opera house held the usual first night Shaw audience last night—that is, every seat in the theater was sold out and many were unable to get admitted than get standing room. Sam T. Shaw is a great drawing card with Fresno theatergoers, and the reason for this is always given them the worth of their money and more too. Many of the plays given by his company have proved well for, above what one would expect, from a popular priced organization, and that he has given general satisfaction is shown by the immense audiences that his productions draw.

Since the Shaw company was last here there have been several changes, and notably among those which are missed are Jessie Shirley and Theodor Nicholson. But there are several new faces in the company and some very clever people among them.

For passing bill "The Westerner" was put on. It is very much the order of that charming play "Friend," and is very interesting. One thing about the Shaw company that impresses one more than most of the popular priced companies is that the productions move with plenty of life and it is evident that you find any one in the cast stamping and bungling through his or her lines, for which is inexcusable.

Mr. Shaw as James Bond, the whole could westerner from Nevada, had just the right manner, that he likes to play and one that is suited to him, and he won the audience from the start. M. J. Hooley as Simon Leston, who had a weakness for horse flesh and the race track, and who stood ready to let his face and his wife thrown in on his horse "Whiskers," was very funny. The rest of the characters, Mrs. Simon Deans by Mrs. Marie Howe, Jessie Deans by Bessie De Vaul, Matthew Lawton by Harry Gilbert, etc., were all well enacted.

Tonight "From Shore to Son" will be produced with the full strength of the company. It is noticeable that Mr. Shaw has brought quite a list of new and good plays, better, in fact, than any he has had heretofore.

A MERE PRETEXT.

Joe Spinney Quotes the Law

Like the Devil the Scripture, to Further His Own Evil Ends.

EURON REPUBLICAN.—In your report of last Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees, which appeared in Tuesday morning's issue, Trustee Spinney was reported as having said that the repeal of sections 8 and 9 of the ordinance regulating the appointment and removal of members of the police force, was solely for the reason that said sections conflicted with the statute relating to the same subject. In this connection he was sustained by the legal opinion of the city attorney.

The 1883 providing for the organization of cities of the fifth class, in which class Fresno belongs, provides for the election of a Board of Trustees consisting of five members and of certain other officers. It further provides that the Board of Trustees shall have the power to appoint and remove the police force.

Section 104 of the act dealing with the appointment of members of the police force, was as follows: "The Board of Trustees shall have the power to appoint and remove such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation."

The above is all there is contained in the statute relating to the appointment of policemen. The manner of appointment, term of office, fees, compensation, rules of conduct, etc., were left entirely to the Board, without any limitation whatever.

Yesterdav a former board did frame an ordinance to govern in the appointment and removal of members of the police force. Sections 8 and 9 of this ordinance provided that members of the regular force should be elected by the trustees at their regular meeting in April of each odd numbered year, and that they should remain in their positions for a term of two years unless removed for cause or otherwise, with which the ordinance above cited, with which the ordinance, as it stood, conflicts, the city attorney and Joe Spinney to the contrary notwithstanding. The legislature, however, delegated to the Board of Trustees the power to frame the ordinance of which the above two sections have just been passed.

It was an exciting trip for the couple. Their marriage was to be a secret one and more than the usual precautions were taken to keep it so. The launch was engaged by a friend who gave out that it was wanted for a little fishing trip, and even the master of the craft was in ignorance of its mission until the boat was put ashore and the start was made.

The day after the launch came in collision with the river steamer Conestoga, and a serious accident was narrowly averted.

Both the bride and groom were about 25 years of age, and the reason given for wanting to marry at sea was that the bride had only recently been divorced, and the law of the state forbids divorced persons from marrying before a year after the first marriage is annulled.

Joe Spinney may stand up in meeting and disclaim any intention of perpetrating a wrong on individuals or the community at large by acting as the board has done in this instance, but no one can mind doubts for a moment that the real motive back of the repeal of the two sections of the ordinance above mentioned, was to afford fair reasoning for the board to make further moralities on the police force. The idea at first entertained by the now committee on the board, and with which the city attorney agreed, that the board had absolute and unlimited power to remove without cause was abandoned, and to sustain trumped up charges was distasteful. Other heads were marked to fall and the shortest way out of the illusions was to repeat the two obnoxious sections, and they were repealed.

No doubt the scheme originated in the versatile brain of some Democratic politician and was fathered by Trustee Spinney who, anxious to wreak vengeance on those he personally dislikes, is willing to act as the tool of his former political enemies in order to accomplish his purpose.

The day has been cast and there is little doubt that the scheme will fail.

The police force and fire department have been, if not disgruntled, at least incurred in efficiency. So far as the police force is concerned, inactivity is most sure to prevail, for no member will wish to incur the displeasure of the board, as no one wishes to be fired.

Meantime the public may count the cost and await further developments.

A LOUNGE IN VENICE.

SOME VERY RANK DECISIONS.

The Umpires Favored The Alerts.

"Republican" Boys Were Badly Crippled.

Nevertheless They Put Up a Gritty Game—Manager Shea Has Protested.

The Fresno Republicans met defeat Sunday at Central Park, San Francisco, at the hands of the Bushnell Alerts, assisted by umpires O'Neill and Gugge.

The game from start to finish was a long and determined struggle of the crippled Fresno team against odds which could not be overcome with honest ball playing.

The umpires were openly dishonest in their decisions, and early in the game it became evident that the Republicans could not win. Sweated since the actual feeling toward the pastor.

Rev. Gillan and wife were the center of attraction during the evening and no program was given. A lunch was served by the ladies and those who desired coffee and cake made a good sum.

The results of Rev. Gillan's four years of service are not merely confined to the building up of spiritual power in the congregation, but also the material gains under his leadership are worthy of note. In the first year of his pastorate he secured the erection of a $25,000 addition, and his leave-taking was accompanied by unanimous signs of affection that interpreted better than words the actual feeling toward the pastor.

The Alerts' "Kid" the mascot, lost his overcoat in San Francisco.

The Republicans deserve great credit for the pluck they exhibited in playing the game out.

McKinley was in the game "some thing like a lion." Ten assists is an unusual thing for a pitcher.

Tyler pitched a good game and had only been in town to support him properly the score would not stand on it.

Mease, MacLean and Birleach took in the chutes, the haunted swing, etc., and enjoyed themselves as children on a vacation should.

A petition will be circulated in town today for the purpose of inducing the Examiner to give our boy an impartial hearing. Sign it.

On the train homeward bound, Obance found a great friend in one of Hanley's little children. The youngster was little of "Papa Hawk," as he called him, and introduced him all around.

The Alerts played good ball and acted in a gentlemanly manner throughout the game. Catchers, whom who was seen here, were weak and with the exception of Hayes and McCarthy, who was nimbly moving without pain. His kindly smile will not be forgotten by the Fresno orphans and players, in whose esteem he was a high place.

Hayes, whose knew was thrown out of joint on Saturday, was just able to limp about in the field, and was twice hit by a pitched ball, early in the game, and again in the ninth, in disadvantage also.

One of those handicaps the Fresno players ballyhoo they could have won with just decisions. As it is, Manager Shea has protested the game upon six different grounds, and has hoped that the game will be declared off and his team given an opportunity to win or lose by fair means.

The San Francisco City gives the following account of the game:

About 1,000 persons watched the game at Central Park between the Fresno Republicans and the Bushnell Alerts. The Fresno, in their desire to field the best and play the game, made errors, and the Alerts availed themselves of many occasions on not trying to do anything, consequently they are credited with but two errors.

The feature in the game was Schubert's work at short. Once at bat for the Fresno did great work, hitting only two runs for his hits in the first half of the fourth. He was hit by the pitcher and given first.

McCarthy was the next man up and was retired at hitting to the pitcher, once again in the last half of the sixth, and he was given two bases. Hanley, at third for Fresno made a great catch in the last half of the fifth inning, capturing a foul one from Moskowitz's bat, picking it up neatly when he was about to touch the ground.

Tyler, the man with chrysanthemum locks, twirled five innings for Fresno. It was a hard-fought battle, the men were exhausted, and the Alerts were robbed out of the game by Umpire Gugge.

They assert that his decisions were greatly influenced by the Alerts.

Ex-Senator G. G. Gouchar does not like to be buxom, and for this reason he was wearing in a deep musical voice yesterday morning; and though his tones were subdued they were none the less determined. Lewis and Morgan, the smooth sharpers who were incarcerated Saturday for obtaining money by fraudulent means, had included him in their victim. Although the two men did not begin hard earned money from the ex-senator's pockets, they did secure from him valuable legal advice and the expenditure of considerable activity in their behalf on last Saturday.

It was reported that Hayes was retired in the inclosure when he was near the Wafers' saloon on Foster street at first all this time and the Alerts were badly rattled. Before they were aware of it Hayes did over the home plate and tied the score.

The batting honors were divided between Hayes and Hardie. Hayes hit the first half of the sixth, and Hardie the second. Before the end of the game Hayes had a single, and he was given two bases. Hanley, at third for Fresno made a great catch in the last half of the fifth inning, capturing a foul one from Moskowitz's bat, picking it up neatly when he was about to touch the ground.

Lewis and Morgan did not leave town, as they had promised, and were seen on

Marietta street during the afternoon.

The Alerts, however, continued to play, and the Alerts, who were the winners, were the losers.

Both the Alerts and the Fresno

were exhausted, and the Alerts were robbed out of the game by Umpire Gugge.

NOT ELLIOTT LEE

Ivan Sides the Hunter Who Shot Himself.

The Wounded Man Brought to the County Hospital Yesterday.

It was not Elliott Lee, but a young man named Ivan Sides of Easton who accidentally shot himself in the Cantua mountains last Wednesday while out hunting. Before the report of the accident reached this city it was communicated through two dust mites, and they succeeded in getting the account of the occurrence very much at variance with the facts.

Robinson, who was with the hunting party of which Sides was a member, at the time of the shooting, was sent to fight just as he wishes. We believe that the house he represents has no knowledge of this. This house known that we have the factory prices of all their pianos and if it were not unusual like we could adjust the public about their piano.

We expect to close our sale in a few days except we have to remain over to sell our carload of pianos which are to be taken special care of by our agent.

A Sunday Evening Blaze.

The nightwatchman at the Fresno packing mill on I street discovered fire in a small barn between the mill and Peterson's blacksmith shop about 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. He turned in alarm and kept the fire in check with a small hose till the department arrived.

The fire was put out in time to prevent a costly conflagration.

Two Cars Wrecked.

Two cars, one loaded with merchandise and the other containing sheep, jumped the track and were wrecked yesterday morning near the Rosedale bridge on the Valley road. The cars were thoroughly wrecked. Thirty-two persons were killed.

The accident happened along the road from Modesto to Sacramento, where the road is extremely rough, and in some places sides could not be easily crossed.

In other places trees lay down on the road.

The accident occurred at the Rosedale bridge, which is a hundred feet high. It used to be handled carefully, and the task of getting them out of the hole of gorge and cliff was a very tedious one. Ramon and Miguel Tirado, residents of the Cantua, helped the lumbermen very much, they being more accustomed to the hard climbing.

Sides was brought to Fresno by team. He is 20 years of age.

MONEY THAT BURNS.

SPORTING MEN EASILY GET RID OF THE WEALTH THEY WIN.

What Comes to Them Through One Game Gets Away From Them by Another. One of the Class Who Says City Sports Are the Easest of Ease Marks.

"If I were looking for an easy mark," said a New Yorker who is not an easy mark himself, but sometimes finds it in his business for easy marks, "I would hunt for him among the sporting men, particularly if I were in a hurry. Talk about sporting men being shrewd! Why, they can't get rid of their money quick enough to suit them. That is especially true of sporting men in New York. Sporting men in the country—themselves, you'll call them—have harder heads till they come to New York and their heads get swelled and softened like the others."

"I suppose it comes of handling money in big sums and lots of it. I've noticed the same thing about butchers and bank clerks. They get accustomed to handle money just as carelessly as a dynamite maker handles the explosive. See the story of all defacements and embezzlements. It's pretty much a matter of taking the trouble to carry away the stuff from the bank. The butchers get in the rut of expecting you to rob them in certain ways, and if you just go about it in some new, simple way, it's the same way with the sporting men. They get to thinking that nobody but one of themselves knows enough to put up a job. Mighty few know enough to talk away their money."

"Another thing they don't know enough to do is to stick to two things and get rich. A man may be a mighty fine poker player. If he's a gambler and you want his money, all you have to do is to match pennies or play old maid or some other game that you can beat him at. The chances are that he won't know enough to stick to his own game and will back up against what he thinks is your best bid his last card's gone. Why, do you see so many broken down card dealers walking about looking for the price of a men? Because they can't help blowing in at policy or some other skin game the money they make at their business. They might be all well off if they knew as much about the business men they look upon as clowns."

"It's funny, the round the man makes. The business man earns it and lets it blow in at policy, and the policy dealer blows it in at policy, and the policy dealer leaves it in Wall street or real estate, and so I suppose the business man gets it again. Some of the money may stick to the business man, but none to the others. They don't know enough to keep it. There's a man in this city who has made $1,000,000, easy, I suppose, at gambling. He's always been interested in one of the biggest and best gambling houses in this city."

"The game goes right along, reformed police or purloined police. Money flows into it steadily. Now, for 25 years this man has been watching what infernal fool men made of themselves. You would suppose he would learn some sense in that time, wouldn't you? Well, often his buck roll is so low that a run of luck a little out of the ordinary would close the house. Gamble! Not he! He thinks he knows too much for that. He; just puts his money into grain or wheat mining stocks. Either will do the business quicker than gambling, and he'll be lucky if he leaves money to bury him decently, although his gambling house brings him in thousands."

"It seems as though they had to get rid of their money somehow or bust. There's another man who kept a gambling house. He had a fine family and maintained them in luxury. He wouldn't gamble or speculate either, but he had the money, and he had to spend it somehow. He got interested in a church and spent so much money on it that one day when the game went against him he hadn't money enough to put up, and so his shop closed. When I saw him last, he was getting $25 a week as a writer for a bookkeeper and glad to get it."

"A man must have good sound sense to be able to pick the winner day after day in horse races. I know a man who is a genius that way. He never was a plumber, but was content to win a couple of small bets every day or so. He must have cleared money at the rate of $10,000 a year at it during the period when he gave his attention to it. Well, he would save so much, say a couple of thousand dollars, and then he would stop playing the horses and put the whole amount into prizes in an election or something of the kind and would lose every cent."

"That's the way with all of them. I don't believe they really know any more about the value and the nature of money than a child. It is simply something that changes hands. It's true with them that the next best thing to winning at cards is losing. You hear lots about come-ons who get robbed all over the country. If you don't hear so much about sporting men who got robbed, it's simply because they don't equal it."—New York Sun.

The Poet and the Beauty.

One of the finest houses in southern England is Penhurst Place, the birthplace of Sir Philip Sidney. Under the trees of its park Edmund Waller paid his addresses to the laughing Lady Dorothea, whom he celebrated as Sappho. But the heart of Lady Dorothea Sidney—who was the most beautiful woman of her time—was untouched by Waller's amatory verses, and she received the poet in favor of the Earl of Southampton. Many years afterward the countess met Waller, and remonstrating him sentimentally of the old days at Penhurst, asked him when he would again write verses about her. "When, indeed," said the poet rudely, "you are as young and as handsome as you were."

Hawthorne's Cleverness.—In "Memories of Hawthorne," given the following bit of the latter's cleverness:

"Monday evening Mr. Hawthorne went to Richmond Hill to meet Mr. Buchanan. The service was entirely silver, plates and all, and in a high state of sheer. The queen's autograph letter was spoken of, which you will see in The Northern Times that goes with this, and as it happens to be very eloquently expressed by Mr. Buchanan's asking him before the whole company at dinner 'what he thought of the queen's letter.' Mr. Hawthorne replied that it showed very kind feeling. 'No,' persisted the wicked ambassador. 'But what do you think of the style?' Mr. Hawthorne was equal to him, or, rather, conquered him, however, for he said, 'The queen has a perfect right to do what she pleases with her own English.'

The Criminal Lawyer's View.

"So you murdered nobody but your cousin himself."

"That's unfortunate. If you had killed the whole family, we might have avoided insanity."—Elegende Blatter.

The horror of the situation struck me which produces these troubles. Try it and you will be delighted, 50 cents."
